

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

REPORT

ALBANY, April 14, 1921.

To the Governor:

Merit and fitness ascertained by formal investigation are declared by the Constitution to be the primary qualifications for appointment and promotion to positions in the State, county, city and village services. And the method of that ascertainment, it is further declared, must be competitive wherever practicable. Misapprehension exists even among the intelligent as to the possibility of ascertaining merit and fitness by competitive examination. Even where there is belief that the qualifications laid down in the Constitution are ascertainable by such examination, most citizens are not familiar with the modern methods employed to that end.

TESTS ARE PRACTICAL

There is, unfortunately, a general impression that academic or scholastic examinations are solely the basis of admission to the competitive public service. And many persons have the idea that practical knowledge of work which is to be performed in civil positions or demonstrated ability or training shown in other lines, but, nevertheless, of a nature to qualify applicants to do particular public work, has little if any weight in the rating of competitors.

Examinations as now conducted by the New York State Civil Service Commission give full consideration to experience, training, and education, and it has been demonstrated that it is possible to determine the personal qualifications as well as the practical knowledge of competitors. It has been found that only in rare instances are qualifications needed which examinations properly formulated cannot establish. Such examinations provide a way for any qualified citizen of the State to prove that he can serve the State in its civil employment. Civil service examinations give equal opportunity to every citizen, where arbitrary preference by law does not exist, to show he is the best fitted to do work that serves his fellow citizens and for which those fellow citizens pay.

State civil service examinations to-day approximate the investigation which every well managed private business makes in taking on new employees. Experience, training, and education are rated to-day in New York State public service examinations, as, in effect, they are in admission to private service. If municipal civil service examinations anywhere fall below the standard indicated, should not public opinion be aroused to better the local examinations, and give vigorous support to a system which offers to all, not to a favored few, an equal right to demonstrate fitness to enter public employ?

EXAMINATIONS COMMENDED

The Commission has recently received a letter from the Honorable Frank B. Gilbert, Acting Commissioner of Education, State Department of Education, in which he comments upon certain examinations in these terms:

"In regard to unwritten examinations for positions of specialists in various departments of education:

"It gives me pleasure to say that the lists which your Commission has furnished during the last year for such positions have been very satisfactory. The candidates who have been successful in reaching the head of these lists, have universally been men of high caliber, and the men taken from the lists have proved to be well qualified for the positions to which they have been appointed and have demonstrated the wisdom of this method of selection."

II

IMPERSONATION IN EXAMINATION

A competitor whose name stood first on the appropriate eligible list was appointed to a position in the western part of the State. Comparison of the handwriting in the examination and that of the person who appeared to take the position disclosed an attempt at substitution or impersonation.

Section 24 of the Civil Service Law makes it a misdemeanor to personate any other person, or permit or aid in any manner any other person in impersonation, in connection with any civil service examination. Investigation was made by the Commission and the matter was brought to the attention of the district attorney of the county in which the examination was held, after the appointee had been advised that the Commission would receive any statement which he wished to make in explanation of the discrepancy between his declaration form, application and examination papers. Recently the Commission was informed by the district attorney of the conviction for fraud of the person who reported for appointment, and that he had been fined $75 and placed on probation for one year, and further sentence suspended.

This is the third conviction for violation of section 24 of the Civil Service Law obtained in recent years.

LITIGATION

The only litigation in which the Commission participated during the year was the case of People ex rel. Weaver v. The Civil Service Commission. A writ of mandamus directing the Commission to certify his payroll as an official examiner of titles under the Torrens Law was sought by the relator. The case was decided in favor of the Commission by Mr. Justice Callaghan and no appeal was taken. An open competitive examination was subsequently held and an appointment made from the list.

III

REMOVAL OF INCOMPETENTS NOT RESTRICTED

An agency head who retains a competitive appointee in office beyond the three months probationary period acknowledges by that retention the fitness of such appointee. A civil service commission has a brief time in which to ascertain the qualifications of an applicant for appointment, while supervision by the officer under whom the appointee serves, constituting a performance of duty examination which specifically extends through the probationary period, and thereafter as long as the employee remains under that officer. It is then laxity of administration on the part of the head of an office, or his unwillingness to act, rather than the merit system which is responsible for retaining an incompetent employee.

IV

CLASSIFICATION

The last annual report of the Commission showed 20,979 positions, not including laborers, in the unclassified and classified service, subject to the civil service law and rules. As of December 31, 1920, this total is 21,588, an increase of 609.

	1919 Absent, military service	1919 Employed	1919 Total	1920	Increase
Classified service
Competitive.....	98	11,114	11,212	11,333	121
Non-competitive.....	206	6,538	6,744	7,213	469
Exempt.....	6	1,496	1,502	1,520	18
Unclassified service.....	5	1,516	1,521	1,523	1
Totals.....	315	20,664	20,979	21,588	609

Of the forty-two positions added to the exempt class during the year 1920, exempt classification was mandatory in seventeen instances. (Section 13, subdivisions 1, 2 or 3 of the Law.) Classification of the remaining twenty-five positions was discretionary. But the Commission did not take action until satisfied that competitive or non-competitive examination was impracticable. (Section 13, subdivision 4 of the Law.) During the year, eighteen positions were transferred from the exempt to the competitive class, making a net increase of twenty-four in the exempt classification, such classification being mandatory in the case of seventeen positions involved.

COMPETITION

Two suspensions under section 15, subdivision 2, of the Law, were granted during the year.

Manager, State Insurance Fund, Industrial Commission: The Commission was satisfied that in the case of Leonard W. Hatch, the rule clearly applied. Mr. Hatch had been employed as statistician in the State Industrial Commission for many years. He is a Fellow of the Casualty Actuarial and Statistical Society of America, and also of the American Statistical Association. He is a member of the Administrative Council of the American Association for Labor Legislation, which has taken an active part in the development of compensation legislation in this country. He served as a member of a committee of the Association for Labor Legislation which formulated a standard occupational disease report form which has been widely adopted in this country. He is a member of the Committee on Statistics and Compensation Insurance Cost of the International Association of (State) Industrial Accident Boards and Commissions. He is an authority in economics, sociology, financial history, labor statistics and workmen's compensation insurance. He has had large administrative experience. He enjoys the confidence of the employers of the State, which is an important consideration, in view of the fact that to be successful the State Fund must present sound and substantial reasons to employers why they should place their insurance with the State instead of with private corporations.

Chief Actuary, State Insurance Fund, Industrial Commission: The case of R. M. Pennock, Harrisburg, Pa., chief actuary, State Insurance Fund, State Industrial Commission, also came clearly under the rule, as Mr. Pennock had been actuary of the Department of Labor and Industry of the State of Pennsylvania, and was formerly actuary of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund of that state. He possesses knowledge represented to the Commission as indispensable to intelligent statistical work. He is a mechanical engineer, a qualification of value in the special actuarial work he is to be called upon to perform. The Commission satisfied itself that Mr. Pennock has initiative and force and has exceptional fitness for the position of chief actuary.

The number of appointments under section 15, above referred to, beginning with 1910, has been as follows:

1910	27	1915	3
1911	35	1916	5
1912	46	1917	7
1913	34	1918	4
1914	48	1919	1
		1920	2

The whole number of appointments under this rule in the last six years has been 22, an average of a little less than four a year, as compared with a total of 190, an average of 38 a year, in the previous period of five years.

VI

CERTIFICATION OF PAY ROLLS SAVES TAXES .

Prior to the enactment of Chapter 681, Laws of 1894, amending section 7 of the Civil Service Law, there was no direct provision in the law which made it possible for the Commission or fiscal officers to know that appointments and promotions had been made in accordance with the Civil Service Law and Rules. Reference to the statute was incorporated in the report of 1894, which contains discussion of the benefit of the provisions of the amendment. In 1899, by Chapter 370, the scope of Chapter 681, Laws of 1894, was widened so as to apply the principle to cities and, generally, its provisions were put in more effective form.

The original act made it the duty of the State Commission to certify to the State Comptroller the names of persons appointed in accordance with the law and rules. But in the Act of 1899, it was required that payrolls, accounts and vouchers be submitted to a civil service commission for certification before they could be audited and paid by any fiscal officer. The provisions of sections 18 and 19 of chapter 370 have been continued and now constitute sections 19 and 20 of the Civil Service Law as revised in 1909. Section 20, which relates to disbursing officers, was amended in 1909 and in 1914. The amendment in 1909 was for the purpose of correcting a minor error and the amendment in 1914 provides that a civil service commission shall notify a fiscal officer in case it finds that any person has been transferred, assigned to perform duties, or reinstated in violation of any provision of the law or rules.

EVASIONS DIFFICULT

The report of the Commission for the year 1899, which was transmitted to the Legislature, February 15, 1900, contains the following statement:

“The provision of the statute which forbids disbursing officers from paying any sums to persons claiming compensation for services rendered to the State without a certificate from the Civil Service Commission, that the person seeking payment was appointed or employed in accordance with the Civil Service Law and its rules and regulations, has been undoubtedly the most potent of all the means of enforcing the law. It has laid bare many schemes of evasion practised in the past and its enforcement has resulted in purging the service of several persons irregularly and illegally appointed.”

The provision of the Law requiring certification of payrolls has continued to show itself most valuable. Without such a provision, appointments might be made without strict observance of the Civil Service Rules, and fiscal officers might at times be persuaded to pay compensation to those irregularly selected. Systematic presentation to civil service commissions of all payrolls, with careful scrutiny by such commissions, is however necessary in order to maintain this important feature of the Civil Service Law.

SERVICE RECORDS STABILIZE

Service Record Rules were adopted after careful consideration of the subject and extended consultation with State officials and employees, and approved by the Governor June 28, 1918. No alterations have occurred therein except a minor change made in October, 1918, before the rules went into effective use. No promotion now takes place in the State service coming under the rules unless a service record for the individual concerned has been filed.

During the past year several conferences have been held by the Commission with heads of agencies and representatives of the Employees' Association, known as Capital City Council No. 98, with reference to suggested improvements. The suggestions made in such conferences are having careful consideration by the Commission, and as soon as there is a general agreement, among the State officials and employees making the proposals, as to what changes are desirable, it is expected to submit a special report to the Governor. The Commission is convinced that a system of well-kept service records affords the best assurance to employees of equitable promotion, and offers to officials a method by which they will be aided in retaining competent employees who have demonstrated their value to the State and who desire to make for themselves a career in public service.

VIII

PERSONNEL

An open competitive examination for Chief Examiner was held, and an eligible list announced March 20, 1920. All matters relating to this examination were placed in the hands of a special examining board, consisting of George R. Wales, United States Civil Service Commissioner, who was Chairman of the Board, Elmer E. Brown, Chancellor of New York University, and Nelson S. Spencer, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the New York Civil Service Reform Association. From the list established by this board the Commission selected John Boardman Steven as Chief Examiner and Arthur B. Zerns as Assistant Chief Examiner.

The appointments of Mr. Steven and Mr. Zerns give the Commission the benefit of civil service experience including work with the United States Civil Service Commission, the Bureau of Civil Service of the Philippines, and the New York and Wisconsin

State Commissions, for an aggregate period of twenty-five years. In selecting from a list established as a result of competitive examination, the Commission has made concrete its contention that even for executive positions of a highly confidential nature, competitive tests are entirely practicable.

IX

COOPERATION WITH CITY COMMISSIONS

The Commission keeps in touch with municipal commissions and endeavors at all times to assist them in the application and advancement of the merit system. In rating questions, the advice and assistance of the Commission's examiners, including its engineering staff, are whenever possible and without remuneration at the service of local commissions. The Commission also undertakes to secure for local commissioners expert examiners from other State departments.

On four occasions during the past year, at the invitation of local authorities, the Commission has taken charge of the actual conduct of municipal tests. On February 17 it conducted the unassembled examination for chief examiner and secretary of the Utica Civil Service Commission. After a misunderstanding as to wages had left the city of Little Falls practically without police protection, on July 2 a test was held which made it possible to fill the five vacancies. On October 4 a promotion examination for chief of police was held in cooperation with the local commission of Mt. Vernon. An examination for deputy registrar of vital statistics was held in Albany for the city of Albany in December.

CITY COMMISSIONS VISITED

In accordance with the provisions of Regulation XII, which requires the Civil Service Commission, by one or more of its members, or its secretary or its chief examiner, to visit, officially, each city in the State at least once in two years to ascertain whether the municipal commissioners and other city officials faithfully discharge their duties in compliance with the law, the Commission or its representatives visited the following cities, 37 in number, during the year:

Amsterdam	Hudson	Olean
Auburn	Ithaca	Oneonta
Beacon	Johnstown	Plattsburg
Binghamton	Kingston	Port Jervis
Canandaigua	Little Falls	Poughkeepsie
Corning	Mechanicville	Salamanca
Cortland	Middletown	Saratoga Springs
Elmira	Mount Vernon	Schenectady
Fulton	Newburgh	Troy
Geneva	New Rochelle	Watervliet
Glens Falls	New York	White Plains
Gloversville	Norwich	Yonkers
Hornell

The inspection of the records of the commissions of the afore-said cities showed a general improvement in the administration of the Civil Service Law and Rules. Recommendations were made to several cities and others were asked to revise their rules and classifications to meet requirements of the statute and to conform with court decisions and opinions of the Attorney-General. On January 1, revised civil service rules for the city of Watervliet were approved due to change to commission form of government.

During the year, amendments to the Civil Service Rules were approved for the following cities:

Amsterdam	Middletown	Rochester
Auburn	Mount Vernon	Saratoga Springs
Binghamton	Newburgh	Schenectady
Buffalo	New Rochelle	Syracuse
Cohoes	New York	Utica
Geneva	Olean	Watervliet
Gloversville	Oneida	White Plains
Jamestown	Oswego

Resolutions submitted by the Commissions of Auburn, Buffalo, Newburgh, New Rochelle and Rochester, were returned without approval.

A resolution of the Municipal Civil Service Commission, New York, classifying as non-competitive the position of supervising monitor in the office of the commission, was returned without action.

EXTENT OF CIVIL EMPLOYMENT

It has seemed to the Commission desirable to go still further and make an attempt to determine the extent of the public service as a whole: federal, state, city, county and village, within the State of New York. The statistics below are presented as an approximate indication of the number thus employed and their compensation for the year covered by this report.

The magnitude of the civil service, as a whole, within the State of New York thus becomes apparent as never before. The figures do not include those employed on public contract work, but are intended to include teachers, election officials, laborers directly employed by federal, state, county, city, or village authorities, and all other public officials and employees, whatever their character, except those wholly compensated by fees.

It has been difficult to secure exact figures for some civil divisions, but a more systematic method has now been inaugurated and subsequent reports will have the benefit of greater accuracy than was possible for the first attempt in this broad field.

GREATER THAN OUR ARMY IN FRANCE

Multiplication of these figures by ten would give perhaps a rough general estimate of the entire federal, state, county, city, and village civil service within the United States. Such a multiplication would indicate that if all civil employees in the United States were marshalled in one great body, it would in numbers considerably more than equal the entire military force of the United States serving abroad in the late war.

XI

WHO PAYS THE BILL?

When more normal conditions shall have returned, the Commission will hope to present some useful deductions from the facts disclosed by the statistics presented. At the present time it contents itself with asking: Does any subject warrant greater attention from the individual citizen and the individual taxpayer of the State than that of the operation of the civil service as a whole upon the basis laid down in the constitution — that of merit and fitness?

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN C. CLARK, President,
WILLIAM GORHAM RICE,
FRANCES STANTON SMITH,
Commissioners.

AMENDMENTS TO STATE CIVIL SERVICE REGULATIONS

AMENDMENTS TO STATE CIVIL SERVICE RULES

Rule XI, Subdivision 1

Resolved, That, subject to the approval of the Governor, the provision of civil service Rule XI, subdivision 1, to the effect that each competitor whose standing on each obligatory subject in any examination is 60 or over shall be eligible for appointment to the position for which he was examined, be and hereby is suspended in so far as it relates to the position of Chief Examiner in the office of the State Civil Service Commission, which examination was held December 13, 1919, and a minimum passing mark of 75 upon the obligatory subjects of Education and Experience, and Discussion of Practical Problems, be substituted therefor.

(Adopted January 7, 1920. Approved by the Governor January 19, 1920.)

Whereas, The Board of Estimate and Apportionment of the City of New York has granted an increase in salary to all meritorious employees in the service of the counties included in Greater New York, and to the employees in the office of the Transit Construction Commissioner, to be determined by the department heads, with the following limitations:

Up to and including $1,200 per annum, 20 per cent, with a minimum of $100 where any increase is given, with a maximum of $200.

Between $1,201 and $1,900 per annum, 15 per cent where any increase is given, with a maximum of $200.

Between $1,901 and $2,600 per annum, 10 per cent where any increase is given, with a maximum of $250; and

Whereas, Such advance in compensation is substantially automatic and applies to all employees above referred to; and

Whereas, This increase in compensation in many cases involves a change of grade, thus under existing procedure making promotion examinations necessary, which examinations would probably in some instances either deprive some of the employees of the increase contemplated, or advance the compensation of others more than the percentage rate prescribed; therefore be it

Resolved, That, subject to the approval of the Governor, all provisions of the State Civil Service Rules, in so far as they require promotion examination in the case of any person employed in the service of the counties included in Greater New York, or in the Department of the Transit Construction Commissioner, who has been granted an increase in compensation, effective January 1, 1920, as above set forth, be and hereby are suspended, and the State Civil Service Commission be and hereby is authorized to accept, without examination where such examination would seem to be required, notice of increase in compensation on the basis indicated; and the said State Civil Service Commission be and hereby is authorized to certify the salary accounts of such persons when presented.

(Adopted January 7, 1920. Approved by the Governor January 20, 1920.)

Rule XXII

Resolved, That, subject to the approval of the Governor, civil service Rule XXII be and hereby is amended by striking out paragraph 5 and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

5. The Commission shall compare such estimate, payroll, or account for services with the official roster and shall place thereon a certificate in form substantially as follows:

I hereby certify that, with the exceptions, if any, noted below, the employees named in this estimate, payroll, or account, containing . . . names, have been appointed to, or promoted to, or employed in, the positions and places and at the rates of compensation shown, in accordance with the civil service law and the rules made in pursuance thereof; but this certificate shall apply to any person whose name appears on this estimate, payroll, or account, from and after the date when any such person has been separated from the service, only for the one payroll period during which such separation shall have taken place.

The State Civil Service Commission.

By

Up to and including $1,200 per annum, 25 per cent, with a minimum of $100 where any increase is given, with a maximum of $300.

Between $1,901 and $2,600 per annum, 60 per cent where any increase is given, with a maximum of $1,200; and

Whereas, Such increases will affect compensation only and will not alter or change the position as to character of duties, or the services performed, and are substantially automatic and apply to all employees above referred to; and

Whereas, Such increases in compensation in many cases involve a change of grade, thus under existing procedure making promotion examinations necessary, which examinations would probably in some instances either deprive some of the employees of the increase contemplated, or advance the compensation of others more than the percentage rate prescribed; therefore, be it

Resolved, That subject to the approval of the Governor, all provisions of the State Civil Service Rules, in so far as they require promotion examination in the case of any person employed in the service of the county of Nassau, who may be granted an increase in compensation, as above set forth, to take effect January 1, 1920, be and hereby are suspended, and the State Civil Service Commission be and hereby is authorized to accept, without examination where such examination would seem to be required, notice of increase in compensation on the basis indicated; and the State Civil Service Commission be and hereby is authorized to certify the salary accounts of such persons when presented.

Cities Law, sec. 94

The office of superintendent of water works of the city of Binghamton is not a "position" within the meaning of section 22 of the Civil Service Law, and the power conferred by section 94 of the Second Class Cities Law upon the commissioner of public works in said city to appoint one to such office to hold during the pleasure of the commissioner is not limited by said section of the Civil Service Law. (People ex rel. Johnson v. La Roche, 111 Misc. Rep. 465; 181 N. Y. Supp. 611.)

Classifications

Promotions—Attempted validation of improper.

Where promotions are made within the civil service to classifications which do not legally exist, any subsequent action of the local civil service commission in conferring different titles on the persons promoted does not validate the improper promotion. Story v. Craig, 191 App. Div. 914; 180 N. Y. Supp. 955, the court said: "It is much to be regretted that the former official administrators of the Civil Service Law in the city of New York, after repeated judgments of the courts (People ex rel. Fowler v. Moskowitz, 175 App. Div. 710; 220 N. Y. 669; Gallagher v. Patterson, N. Y. L. J. Jan. 4, 1918; Story v. James, Id. Jan. 8, 1918), should have endeavored to defeat the plain requirements of the Constitution and statutes providing for examinations and promotions, within and under the classified city service, which is the great purpose of a civil service commission and the only security for fair, open and equal competition. The judgment is unanimously affirmed, with costs."

Constitutional Law

Certification of appointment as veteran — Laws 1920 chap. 282.

The statute (Laws 1920, chap. 282) which declares that a public employee who had secured a place on the civil service eligible list by competitive examination before or while in the military or naval service in the World War shall be preferred for any appointment or promotion thereafter made in such grade in the department in which he shall be employed, is constitutional. (Matter of Barthelmess, 112 Misc. Rep. 204; 184 N. Y. Supp. 133.)

Excise Department

"Position" of chief inspector — No appropriation for salary — Abolition of position — Mandamus to reinstate will not lie.

Petitioner, an exempt fireman, from October 1, 1914, to July 1, 1917, held the position of chief inspector in the department of excise. The general Appropriation Law for the year from July 1, 1917, to June 30, 1918, chapter 181 of the Laws of 1917, contained no item for the salary of the position of chief inspector, and did not provide for any similar position under any other name. Defendant alleged that by reason of the fact that no sum had been appropriated or was available for such salary, it became necessary to abolish the said position of chief inspector in the department of excise, and such position was abolished on the 1st day of July, 1917. The Appellate Division affirmed an order of the Special Term denying a motion for a peremptory writ of mandamus to compel defendant to reinstate relator in the position of chief inspector, and the Court of Appeals affirmed the order of the Appellate Division. (Matter of Ward v. Sisson, 229 N. Y. 522; aff'g 188 App. Div. 942.)

New York City

1. Reduction of salary of employee in office of Comptroller.

Although a civil service employee in the office of the Comptroller of the City of New York and in the competitive class, received a certain salary per annum as a member of a certain grade, the board of aldermen on the recommendation of the board of estimate and apportionment may reduce the salary of such employee in a subsequent budget, and, having voluntarily accepted the lower salary, he cannot maintain an action to recover from the city the difference between his former and present salary on the theory that he could not be reduced to a lower grade and a lower salary without charges being preferred and an opportunity given for him to be heard. (Brigham v. City of New York, 191 App. Div. 866; 182 N. Y. Supp. 145.)

2. Section 1543 of Greater New York charter — Prohibition against removal or reduction in grade unless on charges.

The provision of the Greater New York charter (§ 1543) forbidding the removal or reduction in grade of an employee without charges and a hearing, was intended to protect individual employees from arbitrary and unjust action on the part of their superiors, and was not intended to limit the power of the proper officials in good faith to reduce the salary of a certain office, providing the reduction was not unjust and not for the purpose of discriminating against any single employee. (Brigham v. City of New York, 191 App. Div. 866; 182 N. Y. Supp. 145.)

Second Class Cities Law

Section 94. Power of appointment to office of superintendent of water works of the city of Binghamton not limited by section 22 of the Civil Service Law. (People ex rel. Johnson v. LaRoche, 111 Misc. Rep. 465; 181 N. Y. Supp. 611.)

Veterans

World War veterans as police sergeants in New York city — Military Law, section 245(7) is constitutional — State Constitution, Article V, section 9, construed.

The statute (Military Law, section 245, as added by chapter 241 of the Laws of 1919, and amended by chapter 282 of the Laws of 1920), in reference to preferences in the promotion and appointment of veterans of the military or naval service to civil service positions, is not invalid as violating section 9 of article 5 of the State Constitution which grants preferences to veterans of the Civil War, and the petitioners, members of the New York city police department who had passed the promotion examination for police sergeant, were not entitled to an order directing the municipal civil service commission of New York city to recall and annul a certification for promotion of the name of a World War veteran who in rating was not among the first three on the list. (Matter of Barthelmess v. Cukor, 194 App. Div. 359.)

It must be assumed that the Legislature in respect to the preferences now in question meant merely that the names of those in whose favor the preference is given should be certified for appointment and promotion in the order of their respective ratings on the eligible list following the names, if any, of honorably discharged soldiers and sailors of the Civil War for whom a preference is provided by section 9 of article 5 of the State Constitution. (Matter of Barthelmess v. Cukor, 194 App. Div. 359.)

Promotions are privileges only, not constitutional rights.

Citizens possess no constitutional right to appointments, or promotions in the public service but these are privileges only, which may be conferred for reasons deemed sufficient by the Legislature upon all of the same class, provided there is no discrimination with respect to classification and a classification based on military or naval service may not be said to be arbitrary or declared void on that ground. (Matter of Barthelmess v. Cukor, 194 App. Div. 359.)

Preference to Civil War veterans not exclusive.

The preference granted to Civil War veterans by the Constitution are not exclusive of all others and the Legislature was not stripped of all power thereby with respect to granting preferences in appointments and promotions. (Matter of Barthelmess v. Cukor, 194 App. Div. 359.)

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY-GENERAL

Civil Service Law — Promotions — Increase of Salary by Statute — Division Engineer in Highway Department

Where a promotion examination has been held and an eligible list established for promotion from senior assistant engineer to division engineer, in the State Highway Department, the subsequent increase by the Legislature of the salary of division engineer, does not cancel the list nor prevent promotion therefrom at the increased salary.

STATEMENT

The office of division engineer in the State Highway Department is in the competitive class of the civil service and vacancies are ordinarily filled by promotion from among those holding the position of senior assistant engineer. In 1916 the Civil Service Commission held an examination for promotion to the office of division engineer, and as a result of this examination prepared an eligible list. This eligible list has not yet been canceled or superseded. At the time the list was promulgated the salary of division engineer was fixed by section 16 of the Highway Law at $4,000 per annum. That section was amended by chapter 467 of the Laws of 1919, increasing the salary to $5,000 per annum. On February 25, 1920, the Commissioner of Highways removed one of his division engineers. A clerk in his office then telephoned to the Civil Service Commission, requesting the certification of names for appointment to fill the vacancy. The Assistant Secretary of the Civil Service Commission advised this clerk that the list was already in the possession of the Highway Department and that no further certification was necessary. Thereafter, the Commissioner of Highways notified the Civil Service Commission that he had appointed Leonard D. Brownell, division engineer, to fill the vacancy mentioned, at the salary of $5,000 per annum, the appointment to be effective February 25, 1920. Mr. Brownell's name was third upon the eligible list referred to. (On the list as it appeared in the Civil Service Commission's records Mr. Brownell's name was fourth, the records not having been corrected to allow for the death of Frank W. Bristow. The correction of the record to strike off the list the name of Mr.

Bristow eliminates from the present controversy any question as to whether or not Mr. Brownell's name was third upon the list.) The Civil Service Commission, by its secretary, refused to accept the appointment of Mr. Brownell at a salary of $5,000, on the ground "that the present promotion list for division engineer was established for appointment at $4,000 per annum, and we are therefore unable to accept the appointment therefrom at salary of $5,000." Mr. Brownell entered upon and performed the duties of division engineer, and on March 3rd his payroll as division engineer for the period from February 25th to February 29th was certified to the Civil Service Commission for approval at the rate of $5,000 per annum. The payroll was returned without the approval of this item, but with a statement that this salary could not be certified at more than $4,000 per annum.

INQUIRY

Has the Civil Service Commission jurisdiction to limit the salary to be paid to division engineers in the Highway Department, or to make acceptance of an appointment conditional upon the limitation of salary below that fixed by law?

OPINION

The request by the Highway Department for certification of an eligible list was made informally over the telephone, but the Civil Service Commission did not object to its informality at the time, but stated that a new certification was unnecessary as the list was already in the hands of the Highway Department. The attitude of the Civil Service Commission in rejecting the payroll certified March 3rd was not that an appointment had been made without proper request for certification of eligible list, or without the certification of such list, but that an appointment at $5,000 had been made off a list from which no appointment at more than $4,000 could be made. There is no specific provision in the Civil Service Law or the Civil Service Rules for the formalities which shall surround application for certification of eligible lists for promotion. Rule 8 applies generally to appointments in the competitive class, and it might be construed to apply to such lists. In subdivision 2 of that rule it is provided that "whenever an appointing officer shall request a certification from the commission for appointment to or employment in any position in the competitive class he shall specify the title, duties and compensation of such position, so that certification may be made from the proper eligible list, or that when necessary a proper eligible list may be prepared as the result of an open competitive examination held for that purpose. The secretary shall thereupon as soon as practicable certify to the appointing officer for appointment, from the eligible list most nearly appropriate to such position, as it may then exist, the names of the three persons, etc., etc."

The Civil Service Commission is in a position to consider this rule as applying to certification of lists for promotion, or it may consider it as applying only to lists prepared as the result of open competitive examination. If they take the first position, it is true that the Highway Department did not specify, in applying for certification, the salary of the position. But it is also true that had they specified the salary at $5,000 it would have made no difference in the selection by the secretary of the Civil Service Commission of the most nearly appropriate list from which certification could be made, because, regardless of any change of salary, there can be no more appropriate list for promotion from senior assistant engineer to division engineer than the list prepared as a result of examination open to senior assistant engineers for promotion to division engineer. There being a list than which no other list could possibly be more appropriate, it would have become the duty of the Secretary to certify from this list, regardless of the salary which might be stated in the request for certification. The rule specifically states the reason why title, duties, and compensation of the position shall be specified: that is, "so that certification may be made from the proper eligible list." If knowledge of the rate of salary to be paid could have no effect upon the question of which list was most appropriate, then the reason for requiring specification of the salary fails; and it is an accepted maxim of the law that where the reason for a rule fails, the rule fails. Further, the salary in this case was not fixed by the head of the department, but by the statute, section 16 of the Highway Law fixing the salary without vesting in the Commissioner of Highways any discretion to change it, and without vesting in the Civil Service Commission any discretion to limit it to less than the amount so fixed. There is a presumption of knowledge of the provisions of general statutes which I think extends to the Civil Service Commission as well as to everybody else, and I think the Civil Service Commission is charged with knowledge of the salary of division engineers in the Highway Department, and cannot reject appointments made by the Commissioner of Highways on the ground that he had not informed them of the provisions of a general law.

Should the Civil Service Commission take the position that subdivision 2 of Rule 8 does not apply to the certification of lists for promotion but only to lists resulting from open examinations, then there is no provision requiring the formal application for certification of an eligible list in promotion cases, Rule 14 being silent upon the subject. That being the case, when an informal application for a list was made by the Highway Department and accepted by the Civil Service Commission through the informal advice that the list already in the hands of the Highway Department was the proper list — a procedure which I understand is not at all uncommon but may be regarded as established by departmental usage — I do not think the Civil Service Commission is in a position to complain of the lack of formality surrounding the preliminaries to this appointment. The Commissioner of Highways had before him an eligible list which had been duly certified at one time, and which was the list of those eligible for promotion from senior assistant engineer to division engineer. From this list he promoted a man from senior assistant engineer to division engineer. I can see no reason why this promotion is not valid and why the Civil Service Commission should not certify the payroll of the man so promoted.

The contention is made by the Secretary of the Civil Service Commission that since the list of those eligible for promotion from senior assistant to division engineer was prepared at a time when the salary of division engineer was $4,000, and since the Legislature has since arbitrarily changed that salary to $5,000, a promotion from senior assistant to division engineer cannot be made from that list. A very similar contention was made by the Civil Service Commission with respect to the position of county superintendent of highways when they had prepared a list as the result of an examination, which had been advertised in a notice stating that the salary of the position was $2,500, and the Board of Supervisors of Westchester County raised the salary to $5,000 at the time of making an appointment from that list. This contention of the Civil Service Commission was overruled by the Court of Appeals in the Matter of Mac Donald v. Ordway, 219 N. Y. 328. The opinion of the court in that case is summarized in the second paragraph of the headnote, as follows:

"2. There does not appear to be any statute or rule of the State Civil Service Commission directing or empowering it to state in the notice of an examination for applicants for a position the salary attached thereto. Hence, the Commission has no authority to refuse to certify the salary of a county superintendent of highways, upon the ground that the salary fixed by the board of supervisors, at the time he was appointed, exceeded the salary stated in the notice published by the Commission for the competitive examination of candidates for the position."

In the case before me the equities are even stronger against the contention of the Civil Service Commission, for had the salary of division engineer been $5,000 at the time the promotion examination was held, or had the Civil Service Commission announced at that time that there was a possibility of its being increased beyond $4,000, only those who were actually admitted to the examination would have been eligible to take it, that is the senior assistant engineers. An announcement of a higher salary could not have brought in more competitors, for only senior assistant engineers were eligible to compete. If the Legislature has seen fit to increase the salaries of division engineers, I do not see how the Civil Service Commission can say that those senior assistant engineers who were theretofore eligible to promotion have ceased to be eligible.

The vacancy in the position of division engineer must be filled, and it must be filled at $5,000, the Highway Law giving the Commissioner of Highways no discretion in fixing this salary. Under the general principles of the Civil Service Law, it must be filled by promotion from the position of senior assistant engineer. There is in existence a list of those eligible to promotion from senior assistant engineer to division engineer. I am satisfied that it is within the right of the Commissioner of Highways to make such a promotion from this list, and that the Civil Service Commission cannot, by assuming a right not granted to it in either the law or its rules, limit the salary of the position or limit the power of the Commissioner of Highways to fill the position.

The promotion list is, to be sure, three and one-half years old, and might well be deemed obsolete by the Civil Service Commission, if the Civil Service Commission chose to terminate it and call for an examination for a new list. But the proper time to declare a list obsolete and announce a new examination is before and not after an appointment has been made from that list. It will not do for the Civil Service Commission to say they will leave this list in effect until somebody tries to make an appointment from it and then cancel it on the grounds of obsolescence. But the refusal of the Civil Service Commission to accept an appointment from this list is not based upon any contention that the list is obsolete, for the Commission is willing to accept an appointment at $4,000. As I have said before, the Commission has no power or jurisdiction to fix salaries in this way, and it seems to me that if the list is a proper one for the promotion of senior assistant engineers to the position of division engineer at $4,000, it is also a proper one for the promotion of the same eligibles to the same position at $5,000, or at any other salary which may be fixed by the Legislature.

In view of these facts, it is my opinion that in effect the Civil Service Commission has certified the list of persons eligible for promotion from senior assistant engineer to division engineer: that Mr. Brownell's name was third upon that list; and that the appointment of Mr. Brownell therefrom to the position of division engineer by the Commissioner of Highways was valid and must be accepted by the Civil Service Commission, the fact that the salary is now $5,000 in nowise affecting the validity of the appointment. This being the case, it becomes the duty of the Civil Service Commission to certify the payroll under section 20 of the Civil Service Law.

Dated March 10, 1920.

CHARLES D. NEWTON,

Attorney-General.

By J. L. CHENEY,

First Deputy.

TO HON. FREDERICK STUART GREENE, Commissioner of Highways, Albany, N. Y.

ALBANY, March 30, 1920.

DELOS M. COSGROVE, Esq.,

Counsel, Black River Regulating District,

Watertown, N. Y.

DEAR SIR.— I have your letter of March 26, 1920, with respect to the status, under the Civil Service Law, of employees of the Black River Regulating District. I have also conferred with Mr. Cullings, the Secretary of the Board, and Mr. Birdseye, Secretary of the Civil Service Commission, upon the subject. It seems to me, in view of the territorial limitation of the district and the fact that salaries and all other expenses are provided, not by general appropriation but by assessments levied upon the properties benefited by reservoirs within the district, that the district should be regarded not as an agency or department of the State Government, but as a civil division of the State, like a tax district or a school district.

Under section 10 of the Civil Service Law, the Civil Service Commission from time to time makes rules for the classification of the offices, places, and employments in civil divisions of the State, when, after due inquiry, the Commission deems it practicable to extend its rules to such civil divisions. Up to the present time the Civil Service Commission has only extended its rules to about twenty of the counties and to only a few villages. I believe it is in the power of the Civil Service Commission, under section 10, to extend its rules to include the Black River Regulating District, but until such extension is made the employees of that district are not subject to the provisions of the Civil Service Law.

Yours very truly,

CHARLES D. NEWTON,

Attorney-General.

By J. S. Y. IVINS,

Deputy.

Civil Service Law, Article 3 — Additional Compensation
— Scope of Article

Article 3 of the Civil Service Law has no application to laborers, mechanics, cooks, or other employees except clerks, bookkeepers, stenographers, copyists, messengers, and other employees whose duties are of a clerical character.

INQUIRY

The inquiry comes from one state institution as to the application of article 3 of the Civil Service Law to firemen employed to do extra work shoveling coal and teaming; and a similar inquiry from another state institution with respect to the application of the article to a cook employed overtime as a teamster. In each case the inquiry is whether the employee so employed out of his regular hours may be paid for his overtime services.

OPINION

Article 3 of the Civil Service Law, originally passed as chapter 521 of the Laws of 1901 (the "Higgins Law"), is limited in its application by its own terms to "all clerks, bookkeepers, stenographers, copyists, messengers, and other employees whose duties are of a clerical character, in all the state departments, bureaus, commissions, and offices, except those otherwise fixed by law, or whose salaries were January first, nineteen hundred and one.

more than the maximum fixed herein." (C. S. L., § 40.) Section 43 of the same article provides:

"No person holding a position or employed in any department, bureau, commission or office to which this article applies and for which a definite salary or compensation has been appropriated or designated, shall receive any extra salary or compensation in addition to that so fixed."

In 1904, Attorney-General Cunneen held that the provisions of the act did not apply to conductors of teachers' institutes, their duties not being of a clerical character. (Op. Atty. Gen. 1904, page 304.) In the same year, he held that the statute had no application to the position of laborer in the Comptroller's office, saying

"The position held * * * is that of laborer and the services performed by him do not appear to have been of a clerical character. This being so, it would seem plain that chapter 521 had no application to the case under consideration. (Op. Atty. Gen. 1904, page 320.)

In 1912, Attorney-General Carmody in effect approved these decisions in his opinion on additional compensation to the Dean of the New York State College of Forestry. (Op. Atty. Gen. 1912, page 414.) It seems to me perfectly clear that article 3 of the Civil Service Law was never intended to extend to any position except those defined in section 40. It is also clear to me that where persons are required or permitted to work overtime, rendering services not within the scope of their regular employment, they should be paid for those services, and there is nothing in the Civil Service Law to prevent it.

Civil Service Law § 21-a — Retirement and Pension of Civil War Veterans in the Civil Service

A civil war veteran, in order to be entitled to retirement by the State under section 21-a of the Civil Service Law, must be in the employ of the State for a continuous period of ten years at the time of application for retirement.

INQUIRY

An honorably discharged soldier of the United States in the late Civil War was employed for a continuous period of over ten years in a county position, after which he was transferred to a state position and served for two years. Is he entitled to retirement from the state position?

OPINION

Section 21-a of the Civil Service Law, as added by Laws of 1916, chapter 438, and amended by Laws of 1917, chapter 768, provides

"Every soldier, sailor or marine of the army or navy of the United States in the late civil war honorably discharged from service who shall have been employed for a continuous period of ten years or more in the civil service of the state of New York and the several cities and counties thereof and who shall have reached the age of seventy years upon his own request, or if employed in manual labor upon being incapacitated for performing manual labor, shall be retired from his employment by the state of New York and the several cities and counties thereof, and thereafter and during his life the state department or institution and the several cities and counties which employed him at the time of his retirement shall pay to him in the same manner that the salary or wages of his former position were customarily paid to him an annual sum equal in amount to one-half the salary or wages paid to him in the last year of his employment; provided, however, that the amount so to be paid to such retired veteran shall not exceed the sum of one thousand dollars per annum." (The amendments of 1917 are shown in italics.)

As originally passed, this section provided for retirement only of state employees. The amendment was intended to permit similar retirement of city and county employees, but I do not think that it was intended to permit one who served some time in a city or county and some time under the State to add up the time served under two or three different governments for the purpose of drawing a pension from the last one under which he served. I do not think the Legislature intended to permit a man who had served for almost ten years or over ten years under a city or county government to accept an appointment under the state government and immediately retire at the expense of the State. In order to be entitled to retire at the expense of the State, he should have served a continuous period of ten years under the state government and still be in the state service at the time of applying for retirement.

Civil Service Law, § 22, as Amended by Laws 1920, Chapter 833 — National Guardsmen in Federal Service During the World War as Veterans.

An honorably discharged member of the national guard who was in the service of the United States under the call of the President during the World War, is entitled to the protection of section 22 of the Civil Service Law as amended by Laws of 1920, chapter 833.

INQUIRY

Does the amendment to section 22 of the Civil Service Law by Laws of 1920, chapter 833, extending the protection thereof to honorably discharged soldiers, sailors, and marines having served in the army or navy of the United States in the World War, grant the benefits of that section to a member of the national guard who was called into Federal service by the President and served under the United States after the declaration of war against Germany and before the national guard was drafted into the Federal army, but who was discharged prior to that draft?

Section 22 of the Civil Service Law grants certain rights to veterans by chapter 833 of the Laws of 1920. The words "or in the world war" were inserted in the description of the veterans protected, so that now the protection applies, in addition to those theretofore protected, to a "person holding a position by appointment or employment in the State of New York or in the several cities, counties, towns or villages thereof who is an honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine, having served as such in the army or navy of the United States * * * in the world war * * *."

On April 6, 1917, Congress declared that a state of war existed with Germany. Thereafter the President called into Federal service a number of national guard units. Finally, by a proclamation dated July 25, 1917, the entire active personnel of the national guard, with the exception of general officers, was drafted into the army under the terms of section 111 of the National Defense Act and section 1 of the Selective Service Law. The effect of this draft was to discharge the persons so drafted from the militia. Prior to the draft, however, certain members of the national guard were discharged while in the service of the United States.

In my opinion, the persons so discharged are entitled to be considered as having served in the army or navy of the United States during the World War. Section 101 of the National Defense Act provides

"The National Guard when called as such into the service of the United States shall, from the time they are required by the terms of the call to respond thereto, be subject to the laws and regulations governing the Regular Army, so far as such laws and regulations are applicable to officers and enlisted men whose permanent retention in the military service, either on the active list or on the retired list, is not contemplated by existing law."

In other words, members of the national guard, while in Federal service, were regarded in exactly the same light as members of the regular army whose permanent retention in the military service was not contemplated — a situation similar to that of men volunteering for the duration of the war, or members of the officers reserve, the enlisted reserve, the medical reserve, etc., called for duty. The United States Government paid to these men the same bonus (under act of Congress February 24, 1919) as was paid members of the regular army, both volunteers and drafted men. I see no reason why the State of New York should draw a distinction against these men who were regarded by the United States, for all purposes, as members of the army. I therefore advise that members of the national guard whose honorable discharge papers show the performance of military duty in the service of the United State, under call of the President, between April 6, 1917, and October 11, 1918, be considered entitled to the protection of section 22 of the Civil Service Law. The fact that such service may have commenced prior to April 6, 1917, will make no difference if it continued thereafter.

Civil Service Law, Article 4, as Added by Laws 1920, Chapter 741 — Pensions — Retirements

1. Prior service in a department in which an employee is no longer employed is entitled to credit in computing total service, regardless of the fact that that department now has a retirement system.

2. An employee in a department which has a retirement system, who is not a member of that system and cannot now become a member, is entitled to become a member in the new State Employees' Retirement System.

3. Employees who do not become members are in no way affected by the statute.

INQUIRIES

Under article 4 of the Civil Service Law, as added by chapter 741, Laws of 1920 —

1. Should service rendered to the State previous to or since the enactment of any other retirement laws relative to state employees, such service being in a department to which the other retirement laws now apply, be credited to a person who is now rendering service to the State in a bureau or department whose employees are not now entitled to benefit by existing laws other than Laws of 1920, chapter 741?

2. If an employee of any of the several departments to which article 5 of the Insanity Law is applicable, and who has had previously, some two years ago, the opportunity to become a member of the Hospital Retirement System, refused it, may he now become a member of the New York State Employees' Retirement System?

3. If an employee, now in the service, fails to become a member, and reaches the age of seventy subsequent to January 1, 1925, may he continue in the service thereafter?

The fact that an employee is or has been in a branch of the civil service to which some other retirement law applies, does not appear to make any difference with respect to his status unless he is or may be now or hereafter entitled to benefit by existing laws providing for pensions and annuities. (§ 52, par. 2.) The definitions of state service, prior service, and total service (§ 50, pars. 8, 9, and 10), do not exclude service in departments which had or have retirement systems. The law provides for the admission to membership in the New York State Employees' Retirement System of present or future employees, except those who are or may be entitled to benefit by some other existing laws providing for pensions, etc. The exclusion applies only to those who still may get the benefit of other statutes. Those who formerly served in departments when there were no pension systems, and left those departments to enter other departments, are not excluded by reason of the fact that the departments which they left have since acquired retirement systems. The answer to the first inquiry is that service rendered in one department by an employee now in another department should not be excluded in computing prior service by reason of the fact that the first mentioned department now has a pension system. The fact that it now has a pension system does not help that employee at all, and it seems to be the purpose of the law to admit every employee who is not in a position to get a pension under some other law.

Carrying out this purpose, it is my belief that the law intended to admit any employee who is not now in some other retirement system and cannot now join one. The fact that an employee refused to join a retirement system in the past, and thereby precluded himself from joining it now, does not keep him out of the new system. I therefore answer the second inquiry as follows: An employee of a department having an existing retirement system, who has not become and cannot now become a member of that retirement system, is eligible for membership in the new system.

The statute makes no provision for retirement of persons not members, nor for the removal of such persons without pension or annuity. Section 62 provides: "Retirement of a member for superannuation shall be made by the Comptroller as follows: 1. Any member in state service may be retired * * *. 2. Any member in the state service attaining the age of seventy years shall be retired * * *." Section 63 provides: "Upon retirement for superannuation a member shall receive a retirement allowance * * *." It is perfectly clear that these sections apply only to members, and provide only for retirement with allowances. There is nothing to indicate any intent to place an age limit upon non-members. I therefore answer the third question as follows: An employee now in the service, who refuses to become a member of the system, does not in any way come under the provisions of the act, and the act cannot be considered to compel his retirement on reaching the age of seventy subsequent to January 1, 1925.

Civil Service Law, § 22-a, as Added by Laws of 1920, Chapter 836 — Preference in Retention on Abolition of Positions

HEADNOTE

Section 22-a of the Civil Service Law, as added by Laws of 1920, chap. 836, reasonably construed, provides for preference among persons holding identical positions in the same bureau or department, when the number of positions is reduced. The preference in retention is based upon the date of appointment to the position held.

INQUIRY

Due to lack of work and for reasons of economy, it will be necessary, within a short time, for the State Engineer to make reductions in the force of engineers and assistants now employed in his department. In view of the provisions of chapter 836 of the Laws of 1920, the following questions arise with respect to the suspension of men to be laid off:

1. Does an original appointment mean the date originally appointed, regardless of any intervening time in which the employee may have been out of the service?

(a) A senior assistant engineer entered the service as chainman in 1901; was out of the department for two years, and re-entered as leveler in 1905. Which date is to be considered the original appointment in the service?

2. Does it refer to original appointment in the present position or to original appointment to any position in the classified service?

(a) Two junior assistant engineers are doing similar work and receive like salary. "A" entered the department as laborer in 1910, and became a rodman in 1915, and a junior assistant engineer in 1917. "B" entered the department as chainman in 1912, and became a rodman in 1913, and a junior assistant engineer in 1917. What is the date of original appointment in the service as referred to in the law?

3. Does the word "position" refer to title, the group, and grade by which men are classified by the civil service; or does it refer to situation or location?

(a) For example, some of the assistant engineers, group D, grade 1, are field engineers in charge of construction work, while others are bridge designers, etc. Assume that an assistant engineer entered the service in 1904, and at present is in charge of construction work which will be completed shortly; assume also another assistant engineer entered the service as such in 1910, but has been and is now assigned as a bridge designer; and assume also that the necessity for a bridge designer continues. Which may legally be suspended?

(b) As another example, assume that an assistant engineer who entered this grade in 1912 has charge of a Barge Canal contract at Buffalo, and another man who became an assistant engineer in 1905 is on terminal construction work in New York city. Assume the work at Buffalo is to continue and the other close, and that the assistant engineer at Buffalo is best qualified by training and experience to perform this work. Which of these two men may legally be suspended?

(c) As another case, assume that an assistant engineer in charge of terminal construction work at Rochester and another man is doing general office work; that the field work is to continue but the office work is to close; that the office man's service prior dates the field man's by eight years. Which of these two men may legally be suspended?

4. Does the word "position" refer to the group in which men are classified in the engineering grades by the civil service, or does it refer to similar salaries within the group?

(a) In the group assistant engineer, for example, there are two grades: Grade 1 includes mechanical engineer and draftsman, assistant engineer; salary range $2,400, $2,520, $2,700. Grade 2, bridge designer, assistant engineer; salary range, $2,820, $2,940, $3,060, $3,240.

(b) An assistant engineer receiving $3,060 or $3,250 was appointed in 1910 and is in charge of a large contract. He has an assistant engineer at $2,400 or $2,820 working under him as an assistant. The latter was originally appointed in 1909. The work now only requires an engineer in charge. Which one may legally be suspended?

(c) A junior assistant engineer entered the department as laborer in 1910, and became a rodman in 1915, and a junior assistant engineer in 1917. He now receives $2,400 per year and is specialized as an assistant on designing work. Another junior assistant engineer entered the department in 1912, and became a rodman in 1913 and a junior assistant engineer in 1917. He receives $1,800 per year and is an assistant in field work. The services of the junior assistant engineer on design and office work is needed and the field man is not needed. Which one may be legally suspended?

5. Does the fact that the engineering grades in this department were re-classified by the Civil Service Commission in 1917 have any bearing on the case?

6. Does an original appointment refer to appointment in this department, or would it include service of prior date in another department, if any?

OPINION

Chapter 836 of the Laws of 1920 adds a new section, 22-a, to the Civil Service Law. This is not an amendment of section 22-a as added by Laws of 1918, chapter 211, but a new section with a duplicated number. The same carelessness which appears in the numbering characterizes the phraseology of the act, and it is difficult to determine from its language exactly what was the legislative intent.

The new section provides

"Whenever a position in the competitive class or qualified grades in the civil service of the state or of any civil division or city thereof is abolished or made unnecessary, the person holding such position shall be deemed to be suspended without pay. Such suspension shall be made in the inverse order of their original appointment in the service and such person so suspended shall be entitled to reinstatement in that or any corresponding or similar position if within two years thereafter there is need for his services. It shall be the duty of the department or office in which such position has existed to furnish the names of all persons so suspended to the state civil service commission, or if the position is in the service of the city, to the municipal civil service commission of the said city, with a statement in the case of each of the date of his original appointment in the service, the nature of his work and his compensation and the cause of his suspension. It shall be the duty of the state civil service commission, or if the person or persons affected have been in the service of a city, of the municipal civil service commission of the said city, forthwith to place the names of said person or persons on a list of suspended employees, and for two years thereafter to certify from said list the persons thereon in the order of their original appointment for reinstatement or re-employment for the same class and grade of work at which they had been employed, before making certification from any other list. The failure of the person on any such list for reinstatement or re-employment to accept after reasonable notice any office or position in the same city, if he has been in the service of a city, or in the same county, if he has been in the service of a county, or in the state service, if he has been employed therein, involving the same class and grade of work, and at the same salary or wages as he received in the position formerly held by him, shall be held to be a relinquishment of his rights to reinstatement as herein stated. Nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to the position, in the exempt or non-competitive class or grade, of private secretary, cashier or deputy for any official or department, nor affect the rights of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors or marines, or volunteer firemen."

The first sentence of the section would seem to refer to the abolition or discontinuance of single positions. The second sentence, however, says "such suspension shall be made in the inverse order of their original appointment * * *." Although the plural relative "their" has no plural counterpart in the preceding sentence, it indicates an intent to establish an order of preference in removals, and one must conclude that the intention of the act is to provide for cases where the number of similar positions in a department is reduced, as well as for cases where a single position is discontinued.

I cannot believe that the intent was to carry the preference in retention beyond identical positions in the same department or bureau of the State, or of the same subdivision or city. The language of the first part of the section is broad enough to bear the construction that if a position in the county service of one county be abolished, one holding a similar position in another county must be removed first, if his "original appointment" were later than that of the incumbent of the position first mentioned. The absurdity is so obvious that it is unnecessary to discuss it. And I think it is equally obvious that there is no preference running between different departments in the state service. For example, I think nobody would claim that an assistant engineer in the State Engineer's office, whose position became unnecessary, would be entitled to have an assistant engineer in the Highway Department suspended before him, merely because the latter were junior in the service. The head of the department is required to certify the "date of original appointment," and he cannot be charged with knowledge of the date of an appointment in another department or political division.

In short, I do not think the act contemplates transferring a man from one position (which has been abolished) to another which continues, and the displacing of the incumbent of the second position (if he happens to have spent less time in the service).

And I believe this true even with respect to positions in the same department or bureau. When the time for reinstatement of a suspended employee comes, he is entitled to certification for reinstatement to a similar position "for the same class and grade of work." This is equivalent to a transfer under the other provisions of the Civil Service Law and Rules, and these provisions should govern the construction of the new section as far as reinstatements are concerned. A man may be transferred from one position to another "similar" position — that is, another position which his education (as demonstrated by examination) and his experience in the position he is leaving qualify him to fill. But the test of qualifications for transfer or reinstatement is different from the test for preference in suspension. A man may be transferred to a "similar" position, but he is not entitled to displace a man holding a "similar" position; he may only be kept in the service in preference to another holding the same position. If there be a number of positions exactly alike, where employees are doing identical work, interchangeably, and the number of such positions be reduced, the preference would apply; otherwise not. For example, if there be ten stenographers in a bureau, being sent indiscriminately to take dictation from the same men, and the number be reduced, the lay-off must be in inverse order of appointment. But if in a department there were two "clerks," one assisting the auditor with his accounting and the other assisting counsel in his legal work, they would not hold the same position, even though their titles were the same and they were in the same grade (that is both draw salaries between the same arbitrary limits). If the auditor found that he no longer needed a clerk, his clerk, even though longer in the service, could not displace the counsel's clerk.

We should not confuse title and position. Two persons holding the same title may hold very different positions, and neither may be qualified to fill the position of the other. There is nothing in the statute showing any intent to give one the right to displace the other. On the contrary, the statute requires the head of a department on suspending a man to certify the nature of his work, which indicates the thought that men doing work of different natures hold different positions. Also the fact that certification must be "for the same grade or class of work" indicates that even in the same grade and class of work there may be different positions. A good example is shown in the inquiry 3 (a). Under the title "assistant engineer" are construction engineers in charge of field work and bridge designers. While they all hold the title of "Assistant Engineer," some hold the position of field engineer and others the position of bridge designers. While some field engineers might make good bridge designers, and some bridge designers might make good field engineers, the chances are that they are specialized in their several lines; and to give a field engineer the right to displace a bridge designer because there was no longer need for him as a field engineer would not only be an absurdity, but would be directly contrary to the spirit of the Civil Service Law and the constitutional provision—seeking to have the holding of positions depend upon merit and fitness.

Experience in a given line of work, proved by holding a position in that line through a long period, is evidence of fitness for that line. But not for a different line. And when the Constitution requires appointments and promotions to be based on merit and fitness, it does not contemplate the preference of the unfit in reduction of positions.

This brings us to the question of the meaning of the phrase "original appointment in the service." Here again the statute is carelessly drawn. The phrase might mean almost anything. "Original appointment" may mean anything from the first of several appointments, even though separated by years of private life, to appointment in the position presently held. And if it refers to the first of several appointments, it might be that the different positions held were of extremely unlike natures. "The service" might mean anything from employment at public expense to employment in the position presently held.

If we should put the broadest possible construction on the phrase, we would have to hold that a man who in 1885 held a position of page in the Legislature for four months, and who was appointed stenographer in the office of the chamberlain of New York city in 1920, would be preferred as against another who had been stenographer in the chamberlain's office for twenty years last past. Nobody would suggest that the Legislature intended any such absurdity. But what did they intend?

I think we must construe the statute in the light of the merit and fitness principle. As I have said, merit and fitness may be demonstrated by long service. But neither merit nor fitness for one position can be demonstrated by long service in another. A man who by long and faithful service as a copyist might demonstrate both merit and fitness for that position, might neither merit nor be fit for a position of trust requiring the handling of moneys and accurate accounting. Long service as bridge designer might demonstrate the fitness for such a position of a man physically or mentally incapable of handling a gang of men in construction work. But both are classified under the same title, and the examinations for promotion to both such positions might be open to the same group of junior assistant engineers. Experience as junior assistant engineer assisting a bridge designer would be no criterion of fitness for the position of assistant engineer in charge of construction, but the junior assistant to the bridge designer might, on examination, be promoted to be a construction engineer. In that case his fitness would be demonstrated by the examination rather than by his long service.

I am forced to the conclusion that the only reasonable construction to be put upon the phrase "original appointment in the service" as used in the statute is that it was intended to mean original appointment to the position held at the time of its abolition, and that only continuous service should be considered. A man appointed to a position in 1880 who resigned in 1881, and was reappointed in 1919, should not be preferred over a man who has held continuously since 1890. And a man who has been in the civil service, even in the same bureau of the same department, holding various lower positions, since 1895, who was promoted or transferred to a stated position in 1919, should not be preferred over a man who has held that stated position continuously since 1900. The latter man has unquestionably demonstrated fitness for the position he holds; the former very possibly has not. at least not in anything like the same measure.

My opinion is therefore that the statute should be construed as follows: When a single position is abolished, the incumbent is entitled to be listed and certified for reinstatement in the same or a similar position before certification is made from any other list. When a number of persons hold the same position (not the same title), and the number is to be reduced, suspension must be in the inverse order of appointment to that position, and the persons removed must be placed upon the preferred list and certified in the chronological order of their appointments to that position.

I will now undertake to answer specifically the questions contained in the inquiry:

1. Continuous service is contemplated.

(a) The appointment to the present position should be considered.

2. Appointment to the present position is contemplated.

(a) The one first appointed to the present position is entitled to preference in retention.

3. The word "position" does not refer to title, group, or grade, but to what is colloquially termed the "job."

(a) The field engineers hold one position, the bridge designers another, regardless of their titles. On abolition of a position of field engineer, it is not necessary to remove a bridge designer and transfer a field engineer who may not be qualified to design bridges.

(b) Engineers in charge of barge canal construction and engineers in charge of terminal construction hold different positions if the nature of their work is different. Either may be abolished without interference with any person holding the other.

(c) Engineers in charge of construction and engineers doing general office work would seem to be doing work of different natures. If so, they hold different positions.

4. Two positions can hardly be the same if the salaries are different. Salary is one of the elements considered by the Legislature in requiring certification to the Civil Service Commission of the names of suspended men.

(a) A $2,400 man and a $2,700 man can hardly be said to hold the same positions: One has more responsible or more arduous duties than the other, or is better qualified and delivers more work. One man holds a "better job" or a "bigger job" than the other. The discretion of the head of the department as to which position to abolish is not interfered with, and there is no provision for transfer. And if the $2,700 position is abolished, its incumbent cannot displace the $2,400 man at the latter salary, any more than could the $2,400 man displace the $2,700 man, should the $2,400 position be abolished. This applies even more forcibly as between positions in different grades.

(b) Either position may be abolished without interference with the other. It is to exercise discretion in such matters that we have heads of departments.

(c) The positions are different, both by reason of difference in nature of work and difference in salary. Either may be abolished without interference with the other.

5. The title or classification has nothing to do with the case. Incumbency in a position controls, and change of title does not change a position if the duties remain the same.

6. "Original appointment" must mean appointment to the position in the department, except where the position as well as the incumbent has been transferred from one department to another. When the control of highways was transferred from the State Engineer to the Highway Commission, and when the corporation tax was shifted from the Comptroller's jurisdiction to that of the Tax Department, certain employees were transferred from one department to another without change of duties or of position. Length of service in the position should control in such cases, regardless of change in departmental control.

"The salaries for these positions carried in the appropriation bill for the year just passed were:

Notarial Clerk, $1,800; Chief Stenographer, $1,500; Page, $600.

"The payroll of this department for this month was transmitted to the Civil Service Commission for certification, but the Civil Service Commission declined to certify the above three items, stating as their reason for such declination that under a rule of the Commission the two positions of Notarial Clerk and Chief Stenographer could only be advanced $300 for the first six months * * * The full amounts of the increases provided by the general appropriation bill for these three positions were allowed by the Governor and certified to the Civil Service Commission on the payrolls of this department for the first half of July, 1920, and for the second half of July, 1920, both of which payrolls the Civil Service Commission have declined to certify with these three items in."

Replying to your question, it appears that the present method of the Legislature in appropriating moneys for salaries and compensation, and in fact all moneys appropriated, is initiated under what is known as a "Budget," prepared and filed with the Governor, the Comptroller, and the Legislative Budget Committee. This budget for the year 1920, on page 3, contains under the heading "Executive, Executive Department, Personal Service," the title of the position of Notarial Clerk, the salary received for the year 1918-1919, the number of persons occupying the position — one, the salary requested for the year 1920-1921, the name of the present incumbent, and the amount of increase of salary requested. The same items are found on the same page for Chief Stenographer. This budget acts as a guide from which the Legislature prepares the appropriation act, which is chapter 165 of the Laws of 1920. It is very pertinent to note that there is but one notarial clerk and one chief stenographer in the Executive Department; and also that in the budget the names of the present incumbents are given. It is, therefore, apparent that it was the express intent of the Legislature to increase the salary or compensation of Joseph A. Wisely, jr., Notarial Clerk, from $1,800 received in 1919, to $2,300 to be received beginning July 1, 1920. And the same intent and purpose applies to John F. Walsh, Chief Stenographer, increasing his salary or compensation from $1,500 received in 1919, to $2,000 to be received beginning July 1, 1920. It is contended by the State Civil Service Commission that this full amount of increase cannot be allowed beginning July 1, 1920, for the reason that Rule 7 of the Civil Service Commission provides that increases at one time can only be made to the extent of $300 to each person occupying the above mentioned positions. Whether or not this be so, as a matter of law, depends upon the force and effect of section 8 of chapter 165 of the Laws of 1920, known as "The Appropriation Act." This section provides that "any appropriations made by this act for salary, compensation or expenses shall be the salary, compensation, or expenses for one year of the officer, employee, office, board, department, commission or bureau for whom same is appropriated, notwithstanding existing provisions of any other statute fixing the annual salary, compensation or expenses of such officer or employee, or the expenses of such officer, board, department, commission or bureau at a different amount."

Therefore, it appears that by said section of the appropriation act the Legislature has plainly declared that the salaries or compensation of Notarial Clerk and Chief Stenographer shall be, for the year beginning July 1, 1920, $2,300 and $2,000 respectively, "notwithstanding existing provisions of any other statute fixing the annual salary or compensation." Said section 8 of chapter 165 provides for but one condition which would deprive the Notarial Clerk and Chief Stenographer of the Executive Department from receiving the full amounts as expressed in the act, which condition is contained in the first sentence of said section 8, as follows:

"The salary or compensation of any officer or employee, when not prescribed by law, for which an appropriation is made by this act, may be fixed by the department, official or officials appointing such officer or employee, at a less but not a greater sum than the amount herein appropriated for the salary or compensation of such officer or employee."

In the instance at hand, this would give the Governor the authority to decrease and allow the Notarial Clerk and the Chief Stenographer a lesser sum than that prescribed by said chapter 165. This the Governor has not done. On the contrary he has approved the full amounts, namely $2,300 and $2,000 respectively, and certified the same to the State Civil Service Commission on the payrolls of the Executive Department.

It is generally known, and has been repeatedly held by the courts, that a rule of the Civil Service Commission has the force and the effect of law. Therefore, I regard Rule 7 of said Commission in the light of a statute, which said rule under the portion of section 8 of the Appropriation Act above quoted, has been superseded and rendered ineffective in so far as it applies to the positions of Notarial Clerk and Chief Stenographer of the Executive Department, for the reason that said section 8 of chapter 165 of the Laws of 1920 is the expressed intent and direction of the Legislature, and the last legislative expression relative to these two positions.

If more than one person occupied the position of notarial clerk or chief stenographer — in other words, if it were classified as a group, then and in such case Rule 7 of the State Civil Service Commission would be applicable. But where only one person occupies the position, I can reach no other conclusion than that it was the expressed intent and direction of the Legislature that such persons should receive the full salary or compensation expressed in the Appropriation Act, beginning July 1, 1920; otherwise, the provision contained in section 8 of chapter 165 would be meaningless.

I therefore hold, as a matter of law, that it is the duty of the State Civil Service Commission to certify the payrolls of the Executive Office, as presented, in so far as these two positions are concerned.

Very truly yours,

CHARLES D. NEWTON,

Attorney-General.

STATE CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION,
Albany, N. Y.

GENTLEMEN.—I am in receipt of your communication of the 10th, in which you state that the Executive Department has submitted to your Commission an opinion of the Attorney-General under date of August 3rd, 1920, which opinion specifically authorizes your acceptance of the salary of Joseph A. Wisely, jr., as Notarial Clerk, at the rate of $2,300 per annum, beginning July 1st; and the salary of John F. Walsh, Chief Stenographer, at $2,000 per annum, beginning July 1st; but that such opinion does not specifically cover the case of Edward W. Skelly, Page in the Executive Department, whose salary is raised by chapter 165 of the Laws of 1920 from $600 to $720 per annum. You desire to know whether or not the conclusion reached in the opinion of the Attorney-General relative to Notarial Clerk and Chief Stenographer also apply to the Page in the Executive Department.

Replying thereto, I beg to advise that the opinion not only applies to the Page in the Executive Department but to all persons and positions of a similar nature mentioned in the legislative budget and for which appropriations are made by chapter 165 of the Laws of 1920. As stated in the opinion, there can be no question about the intent of the Legislature where there is but one person filling a certain position, namely, to increase the salary of that particular person in that particular position; but where several persons are occupying the same or equal positions—in other words, where there are a group of persons for which an appropriation has been made, the line of reasoning and conclusions as set forth in the opinion would not apply.

Very truly yours,

CHARLES D. NEWTON,

Attorney-General.

OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL,
ALBANY, October 5, 1920.

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION,
Albany, N. Y.

GENTLEMEN.—At the request of Commissioners Rice and Smith, I have examined the question raised in the memorandum dated September 16, 1920, signed by Mary H. Lockwood, Hearing Stenographer in the Industrial Commission.

The fact that experience in a given position is indicative of merit and fitness for that position and for higher positions of the same character, has led to the adoption of the principle of promotion where possible, in preference to appointment from open competitive lists, and as I understand the spirit of section 16, it is to narrow down rather than to broaden the scope of admissibility to promotion examinations. Therefore it seems to me logical that in holding a promotion examination for hearing stenographer, it should be open only to hearing stenographers (there being such in a lower grade in the same department) and not also to other stenographers. The reason for my impression is that there is a real difference between stenographers and hearing stenographers; a difference in the kind of work and the qualifications for the work. This difference is recognized by the Civil Service Commission which formerly had but one classification for stenographers, but has recently recognized a new title for hearing stenographers and has held an examination for them as distinguished from ordinary stenographers. Outside of the civil service there is a well recognized difference between stenographers and shorthand reporters. The hearing stenographer of the civil service is the same as the shorthand reporter of the business world. In my opinion there is such a difference between hearing stenographers and stenographers, that where a promotion examination for hearing stenographers to be in grade seven is held, it should be open to hearing stenographers in grade six rather than to both hearing stenographers and plain stenographers. This is especially true in a case where the promotion represents a mere change of salary, granted by the Legislature on the understanding that it was to be paid to present incumbents. It seems absurd to say that where a hearing stenographer has been receiving a salary of $1,500 for several years, and the Legislature now appropriates $1,800 for her salary, that she should have to take a competitive examination, in competition with stenographers who are not hearing stenographers, in order to hold her own job at the increased salary.

In the Industrial Commission there are, as I understand it, enough increases in the appropriation to take care of all hearing stenographers whom it is sought to increase in salary, and that competition is not necessary among them in order to make a selection of those to receive the increase. In such case, a competitive promotion examination is not necessary under the rules.

What I have said in respect to hearing stenographers is not necessarily true with respect to senior stenographers, as a senior stenographer, I take it, differs from an ordinary stenographer only in experience or rate of salary, while a hearing stenographer differs quite materially in the nature of the work and qualifications for it.

Yours very truly,

CHARLES D. NEWTON,

Attorney-General

Civil Service Law, §§ 10, 12, 14 — Rule IV (3)

The provisions of § 14 of the Civil Service Law, and of paragraph 3 of Rule IV of the State Civil Service Rules, do not preclude the re-classification of a position, the incumbent of which was appointed when the position was classified in the exempt class, without the removal of the incumbent, even when the incumbent has held the position for three years.

INQUIRY

Section 14 of the Civil Service Law provides, in part:

“No person shall be appointed or employed under any title not appropriate to the duties to be performed, and no person shall be transferred to, or assigned to perform the duties of any position subject to competitive examination, unless he shall have previously passed an open competitive examination equivalent to that required for such position, or unless he shall have served with fidelity for at least three years in a similar position.”

Subdivision 3 of Rule IV contains the same words.

A position having been classified in the exempt class, and an appointment having been made, if the Civil Service Commission should become satisfied that the position could practically be filled by appointment from a competitive list, could the Commission re-classify the position in the competitive class regardless of the fact that the incumbent had not been in that position or a similar one for three years.

The Civil Service Commission has a large discretion in the matter of classification of positions under sections 10 and 12 of the Civil Service Law. And where its determination in such matters is not "palpably illegal," it will not be disturbed by the courts. (Schau v. McWilliams, 185 N. Y. 92.) If a position is one as to the proper mode of filling which there is a reasonable ground for difference of opinion among intelligent and conscientious officials, the action of the Commission in classifying it will stand, even though the courts may differ with the Commission as to the wisdom of the classification. (Matter of Simons v. McGuire, 204 N. Y. 253.)

This being the case, a change in the personnel of a Civil Service Commission may bring a change of opinion as to the proper classification of a position. Or such a change of opinion may come with experience, without change in the personnel of the Commission.

When the Commission decides that it is practicable for a position, theretofore classified as exempt, to be filled by competitive examination, the Commission has power to re-classify the position, and to advise heads of departments that it cannot again be filled except by appointment from a competitive list.

That this may have the effect of "covering in" the incumbent of the position cannot limit the power of the Commission to re-classify. Nor does it constitute a violation of the provisions of section 14 of the Civil Service Law. That section prohibits the appointment or employment and the transfer or assignment of an unqualified person in a competitive position — but it means original appointment, or original employment, not continuation in office nor continuation in employment. It prevents the act of transfer but does not affect a transfer made when the section had no application.

The action of the Commission in re-classifying a position by taking it out of the exempt and putting it into the competitive class cannot have the effect of removing the incumbent if his appointment was legal when made. The Civil Service Commission has no power of removal over positions in other departments, and it cannot effect a removal by a change of its Rules.

Ordinarily (except in the city of New York), the mere classification of a position in the competitive class does not affect the tenure of the incumbent, as far as rights are concerned. He is still subject to removal for any but political reasons (unless he is a veteran, in which case classification does not affect his right to a hearing). As a practical matter, the fact that his successor must be taken from a competitive list has frequently had the effect of continuing an incumbent in employment through a change of administration, when if his position had remained exempt he would very probably have been replaced.

But the law does not directly or indirectly limit the power of the Commission to "cover in" the incumbent of an exempt position. Even when the change affected a man's right to remain in office, the covering in process has been upheld by the courts. (People ex rel. Sugden v. Partridge, 174 N. Y. 87; People ex rel. Wilson v. Knox, 45 App. Div. 537.)

The fact that it may result in "covering in" an incumbent does not make a re-classification violative of section 14 of the Civil Service Law, for a man who is performing certain duties is not "appointed," "employed," "assigned," or "transferred" to that position by the act of the Commission in re-classifying it. The Commission does not have to wait before classifying a position in the competitive class until some incumbent has been in that position for three years. If it were so, the head of a department could defeat the power of the Commission by changing his exempt employees around every two and a-half years. On the other hand, the Commission has no power of removal over a man, appointed when his position was exempt, and a re-classification cannot effect a removal.

The Commission has undoubted power to re-classify a position, except as limited by law, regardless of whether the incumbent has held it for a day or a decade, and the fact that a re-classification may, as a practical matter, protect an incumbent against an impending political change, does not limit the Commission's power. It may, of course, affect the Commission's discretion in the matter, for there can be political abuses in changes from exempt to competitive class as well as in changes from competitive to exempt. But the discretion of the Civil Service Commission to re-classify is certainly not limited by section 14 of the Civil Service Law, nor by the length of service of the incumbent of any position.

TO STATE CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION, Albany, N. Y.

December 7, 1920.

HON. JOHN C. BIRDSEYE,
Secretary, State Civil Service Commission,
Albany, N. Y.

DEAR SIR: I have your letter of December 3, 1920, in which you submit opinions of the Corporation Counsel of New York and the Civil Service Reform Association upon the effect of chapter 163 of the Laws of 1920, and the right or duty of the Civil Service Commission to re-classify the position of auditor in the Department of Correction and place it in the exempt class.

In my opinion the Corporation Counsel and the Civil Service Reform Association are both in error.

Chapter 163 of the Laws of 1920 transfers the powers, duties, and employees of the Board of Inebriety of the City of New York to the Department of Correction of that city, providing: "Subject to the provisions of this chapter and of the Greater New York Charter, all persons now in the employ of said board shall be transferred to and be subject to the jurisdiction of such department, under their present titles, except that the secretary of such board shall become the auditor of such department."

The Corporation Counsel contends that since the Secretary of the Board of Inebriety holds an exempt position, he can only be transferred to the position of auditor in the Department of Correction if that position be re-classified and put in the exempt class. If the Constitution does not entirely prohibit this man from holding the position of auditor, it does not prohibit him from holding it in the competitive class. There is nothing whatever in the Constitution about classes. The Constitution provides that appointments and promotions shall be made on the basis of competitive examination, where practicable; but it says nothing whatever about transfers, and the courts have held that the question of the practicability of competitive examination is one which may be determined by the Civil Service Commission (see authorities collected in opinion of Attorney-General, 1915, page 418), or by the Legislature which has all the powers of the Civil Service Commission.

The Legislature had power to classify the position of Auditor in the Department of Correction in the exempt class. In doing so it would modify pro tanto the Civil Service Law. It had power to direct the Civil Service Commission to make such classification. In doing that it would equally modify the Civil Service Law. It had power to authorize the transfer from an exempt position to a competitive position, similarly modifying the Civil Service Law. Any one of these courses would be equally constitutional with any other. The suggestion that the statute refers to the City Charter which in turn refers to the Civil Service Law, and that therefore the Civil Service Law should not be deemed modified by this act, does not seem to me sound. To hold that the statute forces the Civil Service Commissions to make a classification regardless of their discretion, is just as much an amendment to the Civil Service Law as to hold that a transfer from a position in the exempt class to a position in the competitive class is intended.

This is not the first time the Legislature has made such transfers. By chapter 205 of the Laws of 1917, a Food Supply Commission was created, all its employees being in the exempt class by reason of the emergency. By chapter 813 of the Laws of 1917, that commission was abolished and a more permanent State Food Commission created. Nothing in the statute classified the employees of the State Food Commission in the exempt class, but the statute provided that all the employees of the abolished commission should be transferred to the State Food Commission. Attorney-General Lewis advised the Civil Service Commission that the legislative classification in the exempt class in the first instance was constitutional, that in the absence of any such classification the Civil Service Commission had jurisdiction to classify the employees of the State Food Commission in the competitive class, and that the effect of the later act was to transfer the exempt employees of the Food Supply Commission to competitive places in the State Food Commission.

There is nothing unconstitutional in transferring a person from an exempt position to a competitive position, any more than it would be unconstitutional to "cover in" an exempt employee by classifying his position in the competitive class.

If the Legislature is satisfied that the experience had by the Secretary of the Board of Inebriety qualified him to become Auditor of the Department of Correction, it had the power to determine his merit and fitness on the basis of his experience, if it saw fit. The courts have held many times that merit and fitness may be determined by other means than competitive examination, and the Legislature may judge the means.

I am satisfied that the Legislature intended the person holding the position of Secretary of the Board of Inebriety to be transferred to the position of Auditor of the Department of Correction. In order to do this one of three things is necessary: either (a) a transfer must be made from an exempt to a competitive place; (b) the law that must be construed to constitute a legislative classification of the position of Auditor in the Department of Correction in the exempt class; or (c) the statute must be construed as compelling and directing the Municipal Civil Service Commission and the State Civil Service Commission to reclassify the position. The language of the statute, without any interpretation but its obvious meaning, accomplishes the first of these possibilities. It would take a great deal of stretching to make the language of the statute mean either of the others.

In my mind, the Legislature has transferred the former Secretary of the Board of Inebriety to the position of Auditor of the Department of Correction, without regard to the classification of either of those positions, and the Civil Service Commissions are compelled to recognize this transfer and treat the person so transferred as the lawful incumbent of the position of Auditor.

As to the classification of the position of Auditor in the Department of Correction, the Legislature has not interfered with it. It is in the jurisdiction of the Civil Service Commissions, and their act in classifying it will not be disturbed unless palpably illegal. They are neither compelled to classify it in the exempt class, as contended by Corporation Counsel, nor in the competitive class, as contended by the Civil Service Reform Association, but have discretion to classify it according to their judgment. (Peo. ex rel. Schaus v. McWilliams, 185 N. Y. 92; Matter of Simons v. McGuire, 204 N. Y. 253.)

I understand that the position is now classified in the competitive class. Unless the Municipal Civil Service Commission adopts a resolution changing it, and this resolution is approved by the State Civil Service Commission, the position will remain in the competitive class, and the incumbent will be in the same situation as if he had been appointed to an exempt position and then "covered in" by the reclassification thereof as competitive. That is, the incumbent is protected in his position to the extent that his successor must be chosen from a competitive list, but he is not entitled to any privileges under section 1543 of the City Charter as being a "person holding a position in the classified civil service, subject to competitive examination." (Peo. ex rel. Rosenthal v. Travis, 169 App. Div. 203.)

CHARLES NEWTON,

Attorney-General.

HON. JOHN C. BIRDSEYE,
Secretary, State Civil Service Commission,
Albany, N. Y.

DEAR SIR: I return herewith the correspondence which you sent me in your letter of December 3rd.

In my opinion, subdivision 7 of section 245 of the Military Law, as added by chapter 241 of the Laws of 1919 and amended by chapter 282 of the Laws of 1920, should be interpreted to permit civil service employees who were absent at the time promotion examinations, to which they were eligible, were held, to take such examinations, as follows: If there were several examinations for several grades to which the absentee would have been eligible successively had he passed each in turn, he should be entitled to take each such examination upon his return. Only in this way can he be approximately placed in the same position as if he had not been absent upon military duty. Similarly, where examinations have been held for different positions to which the absentee would have been eligible for promotion, upon his return he should be entitled to take a promotion examination for each such position. But where there were several examinations for promotion from a given position to another given position, examinations called because of the exhaustion of lists, etc., as for example, examinations for promotion from auditor to senior auditor, I can see no basis for giving a returning soldier several examinations to test his capacity for the same promotion. If the merit and fitness of a candidate can be tested by a competitive examination for promotion from one position to another, it cannot be better tested by five examinations covering the same subject. If an auditor is entitled to an examination to test his capacity to become a senior auditor, it is absurd to say that he should be given three or four examinations in succession covering the same subjects and intended to test the same qualifications. The only effect of such ruling would be to give him an opportunity to do a lot of guessing, and maybe guess right on one of the examinations. If a man cannot pass an examination on a given day, to give him another examination on the same subject on the same day is to laugh at the theory of competitive examination, and to deem that a competitive examination is no test of fitness; for if a man has been proved unfit by one examination in the morning and fit by an examination in the afternoon, which examination can be said to have best tested his fitness for the position? It seems to me that in such a situation a returning soldier should be given but one examination, and that equivalent to the last examination held wherein he would be rated for experience, etc., on the basis of the full extent of his service.

Yours very truly,

CHARLES D. NEWTON,

Attorney-General.

Civil Service Law, Article IV — State Employees' Retirement System — Compensation of Judges of the Court of Appeals

The allowance of $3,700 per annum, paid by the State since 1898 to judges of the Court of Appeals in lieu of all expenses, is part of their "compensation" within the meaning of that word as used in article IV of the Civil Service Law, and deductions from the salaries and annuities and pensions paid to such of those judges as join the State Employees' Retirement System should be computed on that basis.

INQUIRY

In computing deductions, annuities, and pensions, in the cases of judges of the Court of Appeals who join the State Employees' Retirement System, should the allowance of $3,700 per annum paid them by the State in lieu of all expenses be regarded as "compensation?"

OPINION

The Court of Appeals passed on an exactly similar question in 1889, in a case where the judges had no possible interest in the determination, and held that an allowance paid by the State to justices of the Supreme Court "in lieu of and in full of all expenses now allowed by law," was a part of their compensation within the meaning of a constitutional provision (since repealed) continuing, under certain conditions, the compensation of justices after retirement on account of age. (People ex rel. Bockes v.

Wemple, 115 N. Y. 302.) The opinion of the court, per Judge Gray, contains this language (p. 309):

“This language is substitutional in its effect. It substitutes an annual grant of money to the incumbent in the place of an allowance for expenses. This, I think, was a clear grant of pay, or compensation, having no connection with the expenses incurred by a justice. As granted by this act, it became, naturally and plainly, as much a part of the compensation of the justice as though his salary, eo nomine, had been increased to compensate him further for what his office entailed upon him in the way of duties and work. Expenses or no expenses, he became entitled to the whole of the $1,200. In my belief, from all that we can divine from language and by reasoning from cause to effect, the intention of the Legislature was to make a permanent addition to the stated salary.”

The allowance of $3,700 per annum to judges of the Court of Appeals was fixed by the deficiency appropriation bill of 1898 (chapter 606). An appropriation of the necessary moneys was made, and the act further provided: “And annually hereafter a like sum shall be allowed for the same purpose in addition to that now provided by law.” None of the present members of the court were members in 1898, so there is no question of whether the payment to them of $3,700 in lieu of expenses constitutes an increase of compensation in violation of section 9 of article X of the Constitution.

In my opinion, for the purposes of the Employees' Retirement System, both in making deductions from compensation of members and in computing annuities or pensions to members, the compensation of judges of the Court of Appeals should be regarded as $13,700.
